Arms sales, oil hikes linked

Saudi discord feared

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is concerned that two proposals in Congress may antagonize Saudi Arabia, an American ally in the Middle East and the largest foreign supplier of oil to the United States.

Administration officials, while warning that acts against Saudi Arabia could lead to higher world oil prices, denied a report that Saudi Arabia has threatened the United States with a new oil embargo. Saudi Arabia has over the past few years been a force for moderation in oil price increases.

The two sources of potential irritation are steps to halt Ford administration plans to sell 650 Maverick air-to-surface missiles to Saudi Arabia, and moves to penalize American firms that honor the Arab boycott of Israel.

Congress takes up both issues this week. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger appears today at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee seeking reversal of its 8-6 vote last Friday urging the Senate to veto the Maverick missile sale.

Assistant Secretary of State Alfred L. Atherton told Congress Monday that blocking the missile sale or other actions against the Saudis could lead them to view these measures as "a pattern of attacks" with consequences

"we could come to regret."

Atherton said a veto of the missile sale or other anti-Saudi actions could lead to an increase in the world price of oil because the Saudis "have been holding the line" against an oil price hike within the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, the oil cartel.

Foreign Relations Committee Chairman John Sparkman of Alabama agreed Monday to have the committee reconsider its Maverick resolution after Vice President Nelson Rockefeller said the Ford administration was "greatly disturbed" about the impact on U.S.-Saudi relations if the missile deal is killed.

Most of those committee members who voted against the sale said they were concerned that the missiles might someday be used against Israel.

Meanwhile, the State Department and the Saudi Arabian embassy here denied a report Sunday by the Middle East News Agency that Saudi Arabia had warned American officials there would be a new oil embargo if Congress enacts legislation aimed at weakening the Arab boycott.

However, the report sparked sharp comments from some congressional figures.

Acting Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., declared that Congress should not "react to threats or bow to pressure from the outside," and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said President Ford should personally reject "out of hand" any such threat.

Estrogen warning required by FDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sex hormones that an estimated five million American women take to relieve the symptoms of menopause must carry stronger health warnings, the Food and Drug Administration says.

The FDA, in an order issued Monday, said new labels directed at physicians prescribing estrogen must be printed and distributed within the next 60 days.

But the FDA said it wants to hear from the public before it orders other new labels that would explain estrogen risks in plain language for women who take the hormones.

Estrogens for women too old to bear children "are valuable drugs. They are needed when the symptoms of the 'change of life' become severe. The FDA's purpose is to keep these drugs on the market but to reduce overuse and misuse," Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt said in a statement.

"Because these drugs can cause harm as well as good and because they are different from many other drugs in that they are given to otherwise healthy women undergoing the natural process of menopause," he said, "the FDA believes it essential that women be informed and that they decide for themselves if the risks are worth the benefits."

The proposed warnings for users of estrogen note that it is estimated that more than half of all women undergoing menopause experience only mild symptoms or none at all from "the change of life" and therefore should not take the hormone.

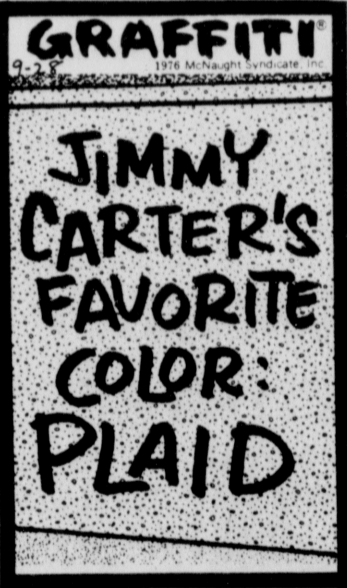

Schmidt had told a Senate subcommittee last Jan. 21 that labeling changes were imminent. In early March, the agency summarized the changes in a drug bulletin sent to 700,000 doctors and other health professionals.

The FDA said it will seek public comment during the next 60 days on proposals to direct new labeling at patients. New labels directed at physicians emphasize that women taking estrogens for more than a year run a higher risk of cancer of the lining of the uterus and that estrogens have been associated with birth defects.

The FDA said physicians should examine patients who take estrogens at least once every six months, and that they should never prescribe estrogens for pregnant women. Estrogens also should not be given to women with breast or uterine cancer, undiagnosed abnormal vaginal bleeding, clotting in the legs or lungs, heart disease, angina chest pains or a stroke, the directions warn.

The FDA said estrogens have not been shown effective in treating nervousness, keeping the skin soft or helping women "feel young" during menopause, and should not be prescribed for those purposes.

Comments on the proposed patient labeling can be mailed to the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Room 4-65, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md., 20852.

Federal agency sets garbage study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before you throw those egg shells, coffee grounds and orange peels in the trash can, stop and think about this:

The House of Representatives is willing to spend $282.5 million for a national effort to find something useful that can be made from garbage like that.

The House has passed a bill that would supply the money for research aimed at finding ways to use wastes that now burden most municipal governments. The bill now needs Senate approval.

Most Americans haven't given much thought to trash, except to notice if it hasn't been picked up. And the garbage man has just been some guy who runs over your trash can twice a week.

Still, a very few people already have found a variety of highly useful, although not always esthetic, uses for their garbage.

For instance, in Richmond, Va., houses were made from recycled trash several years ago, but potential homebuyers were somewhat wary about living in something made of compressed things somebody else had thrown away. And newspapers not long ago told of a man who built a house out of his collection of beer bottles.

Rep. Fred Rooney, D-Pa., who managed the garbage bill in the House, said one goal would be finding ways to use garbage as a source of fuel after proper processing and treatment.

Consider this: The Federal Energy Administration said Monday the nation's dependence on foreign oil is still increasing, with imports in the first six months of the year up by 16.7 per cent.

Some energy experts say Americans produce in garbage each year a potential energy source equivalent to 290 million barrels of low sulphur fuel oil or 5 per cent of current domestic oil consumption. And they say total municipal refuse collection could generate 6 per cent of the nation's total annual electric production.

But with $282.5 million at stake there should be lots of other classy suggestions about what to do with all those empty milk cartons, gum wrappers and cigarette butts that litter the homestead.

For instance: —How about a new automobile made from gnawed chicken bones that runs on gas made from carrot tops, potato eyes and radish roots.

—Or fake eyelashes made from all that spinach you have to scrape off the kids' plates.

—Maybe cement made from coffee grounds, stale bread crumbs and fruit pits. America could have an interstate highway system that smells like a prune Danish.

—Or how about wearing the latest in double-knit suits woven from last night's spaghetti dinner.

Cars, clothes, highways and eyelashes made from garbage would be cheap, but they also would have some obvious drawbacks — a certain air about them, you might say.

During National Good Neighbor Day event

Senior citizens go back to class

The modern facilities and progressive ideas found in most of today's elementary schools may have been a bit foreign to the 21 Fayette County senior citizens who, while visiting Chaffin Elementary School recently, probably couldn't help but compare the 1976 oriented classrooms with the one room, red brick schoolhouse, that they attended in their youth, and the "three r's" that they so diligently learned.

But never-the-less, those senior citizens participating in the National Good Neighbor Day, declared by a presidential proclamation, seemed to immensely enjoy what they encountered.

The Fayette County Board of Education, which extended a special invitation to all senior citizens to "go back to school" during the week following National Good Neighbor Day, an event which the Miami Trace School District participated in, gave the grandmas and grandpas of Fayette County an opportunity to observe classes, tour the educational facilities, review teaching aids and materials, and a chance to talk with teachers, students and administrators.

Guy Foster, district superintendent, who recently stated that it is imperative that "schools display a good neighbor approach to living", felt that the visits would provide a first-hand look at the good things that are happening.

The visiting senior citizens, who toured Chaffin Elementary School, were treated to coffee as well as the company of several students who acted as hosts and hostesses during National Good Neighbor Day.

Those providing these services were Brandy Davidson from Mrs. Jane Foster's first grade class, and Phillip Wilson from Mrs. Harper's first grade class; Tammy Taylor, from Mrs. Karen Bernard's second grade class, Jodi Noel, from Mrs. Helen Woodmansee's second grade class, and Melissa Miller, from Mrs. Norilee Zimmerman's second grade class; Steve Colburn from Mrs. Lela Campbell's third grade class and Mike Bernard, from Mrs. Becky Thompson's third grade class.

Ford, Carter remap strategies

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

Both Jimmy Carter and President Ford are back at their home bases, with Ford resuming the role of White House incumbent and Carter re-evaluating campaign strategy.

Ford returned to Washington on Monday after his first extensive campaign trip of the season, a three-day tour of the South.

And he began laying plans to portray himself as a world leader in advance of his second debate with Carter, scheduled for San Francisco on Oct. 6.

Carter, who has seldom been off the campaign trail in the past month, was at home in Plains, Ga., today for two days of rest and to re-evaluate his strategy for the remainder of the campaign.

The break in campaigning for Carter had been planned for some time. Aides had long said the Democratic presidential nominee was planning to take some time off near the end of September to decide how he could best spend his time for the remainder of the campaign.

Carter aides said the decisions made in Plains in the next few days will determine where Carter will spend the bulk of his effort in October.

Carter's running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, took Monday off. Ford running mate Sen. Bob Dole was campaigning in the Midwest.

Ford's plans are to remain at the White House, meeting with a procession of visiting foreign ministers to set the scene for the second presidential debate. The subject of that debate is foreign policy and national security, and Ford's plans call for holding numerous meetings with the foreign leaders to portray him as working on world affairs.

Republican strategists plan for Ford to claim in the San Francisco debate that he is experienced in global diplomacy and that he has conducted a successful foreign policy. On the other hand, Ford will portray Carter as having never dealt with representatives of foreign nations in any official capacity other than as governor of Georgia.

And to help underscore his claim of on-the-job experience, Ford summoned Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress to the White House to discuss Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's peacemaking efforts in Africa.

Ford returned Monday night from three days of campaigning in the South, where he toured Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

His schedule calls for him to remain away from campaigning and in the White House until Oct. 4, when he leaves for an extensive Western tour leading up to the debate in San Francisco.

Ford wound up his Southern campaign trip with a speech to some 2,000 policemen, where he vowed to spend the first 100 days of his administration, if he is elected president, in a crusade against crime.

He said his crusade would include a drive to place career criminals and "violent and street-wise" youthful offenders behind bars.

But Carter campaign director Hamilton Jordan leaped on the Ford speech immediately.

"That is a strange promise from a man who has been president for more than 700 days already. But perhaps it is a necessary one, since the record of that 700 days shows serious neglect of the crime problem," Jordan said.

The Carter campaign said that under Ford a key program for jailing drug dealers on tax evasion charges was dismantled, the Drug Enforcement Administration was neglected and the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration was so mismanaged that Congress has only extended it for one year on a sort of probation.

Carter spent the weekend campaigning on the West Coast, winding up in Evansville, Ind., on Monday night before flying home to Plains.

Earlier, in Portland, Ore., Carter said Ford's economic policies placed another 2.5 million Americans — for a total of 25.9 million — below the official poverty line last year and have created a new class of poor.

Meanwhile, Dole was trying to shore up what Republican strategists acknowledge is sagging support in the Midwest.

In Moline, Ill., Dole said support in the farm belt has been disappointing. "We don't have the comfortable margin we need," Dole said, adding that Carter "has a good lead in the South."

In seeking the farm vote, Dole said Republican farm policy is superior to anything the Democrats can offer, citing "our efforts to expand exports to keep government interference off the backs of farmers."

7th, 8th graders try to quit smoking

ST. LOUIS (AP) — For three weeks a group of 7th and 8th graders at the Shenandoah School held an after school meeting. The group had nothing to do with sports, dances or stamps. The kids are all trying to quit smoking.

School officials and the American Cancer Society, which conducted the "kicking the habit" clinic, were surprised by the number of students seeking help in giving up smoking. The 38 students represented nearly one-third of the 13- and 14-year-olds at the school.

"I was a little surprised that 38 were heavy smokers who said they wanted to (quit), but could not," said principal Nola Mae Morgan, an ex-smoker and initiator of the program.

More than a "little surprised" was Elke Moses, director of professional and public education for the American Cancer Society here. "I was just amazed when she (the principal) called me," Miss Moses said.

The smoking problem isn't a new one for Dr. Morgan, whose office in past years was often graced by youthful smokers.

"You mean you can't wait till recess or lunch?" she asked them. "No," came the reply. "We need help."

So for the past three weeks the 120 seventh and eighth graders at the school have attended an assembly once a week to hear a lung specialist, a neck surgeon and a psychologist talk about smoking.

Twice a week, the 38 students who signed up for help in quitting smoking attended "rap groups" given by a local counseling center.

"Most youngsters at this age group smoke from peer pressure. It's the 'in' thing to do," Dr. Morgan said. "Sophisticated people smoke, they think, and they want to be a little more grown up."

Dr. Morgan said not all the school's smokers signed up for the program, just those who wanted to quit. Miss Moses explained that for the program to work the students had to want to quit.

Ex-prisoner talks of time in China

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — John T. Downey, who spent 21 years in a Chinese prison as a U.S. spy, says he doesn't feel embittered toward either his captors or U.S. officials, because he was "caught in an enormous clash of opposing politics."

After the "frustration" of early imprisonment, he said, "I came to change my attitudes towards China and the Chinese vis-a-vis the United States as to how much of a threat, if any, they posed to us."

Downey, 46, reflected on his past as one of America's most celebrated cold war prisoners in an interview Monday with The Associated Press. The interview ended three years of self-imposed public silence following a single news conference on his return in 1973.

During most of his captivity from 1952 to 1973, Downey said he felt the policies of both nations made personal intervention in his behalf almost impossible.

"I definitely felt that I was caught in an enormous clash of politics.... That probably was one reason I didn't feel embittered in terms of thinking somebody should have done something for me, because I felt it had gone beyond that point," he said.

Flu vaccine shipments under way

CINCINNATI (AP) — Merrell-National Laboratories, the largest producer of the new swine flu vaccine, said it will begin shipping the first 4.5 million doses today for distribution in 21 states.

Fighting savage in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Savage fighting was reported today as Syrian troops and tanks launched a new offensive to dislodge Palestinian guerrillas from mountain strongholds overlooking Beirut.

A flurry of Palestinian communiques said their anti-aircraft batteries were in action against "unidentified enemy planes" making low passes over a string of seven Palestinian-held summer resort towns 12 to 18 miles east of here.

The top Christian militia commander said Christian forces had joined the Syrian attack and that the entire Christian enclave north of Beirut has been put on a state of alert.

"We have used the Syrian attack to launch an offensive of our own," said

Rhodesian nationalist works on pact

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesian nationalist leader Jshua Nkomo is to leave for neighboring Botswana today for more talks with black African leaders on the changeover from white to black rule in Rhodesia.

Also headed for the Botswana capital of Gaborone are U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's top Africa aide, William Schaefele, and British Minister of State for African Affairs Ted Rowlands.

Rowlands will begin talks on setting up a constitutional conference demanded by the leaders of the five "front-line" black African states as the next step in transferring power from Rhodesia's 278,000 whites to its 6.4 million blacks.

Nkomo is considered a top candidate to be Rhodesia's first black prime minister. He denied Monday that the five "front-line" black African presidents who met in Lusaka, Zambia, last week, had rejected Kissinger's plan for a transition to black majority rule in Rhodesia.

"They have rejected nothing," he said, adding that all they had done was insist that Britain is the only power that can call a conference of Rhodesian leaders to work out a new constitution.

"What they did was remove serious flaws which were in the document that is generally known as the Kissinger plan," he said.

Nkomo said the presidents had produced a "workable document" in their meeting, but he would not disclose what it contained.

The presidents of Zambia, Botswana, Zaire, Mozambique and Tanzania issued a statement after their meeting saying they would not accept the plan for an interim government in Rhodesia outlined by Prime Minister Ian Smith. Smith said the transition administration should be evenly divided between whites and blacks. The five black leaders said it must be dominated by blacks.

Hurricane Gloria drifts in Atlantic

By The Associated Press
Gloria, the fourth hurricane of the year, is picking up a little speed but its 75-mile-per-hour strength remains unchanged, the National Hurricane Center in Miami said today.

There has been little change in the Gloria's position since the tropical storm reached hurricane status Monday, forecasters said.

At 10:30 p.m. EDT Monday, the hurricane was centered near latitude 27.0 north, longitude 58.0 west, or slightly less than 550 miles southeast of Bermuda.

Forecasters said Gloria was expected to drift northward at 10 m.p.h. It had been moving at five m.p.h. Gales extended in all directions for a 100-mile radius from the storm center, forecasters said.

early today in central Texas, some producing heavy rain, small hail and gusty winds. Other showers and thundershowers were located along the northern two-thirds of the Atlantic Coast and in Alabama and Georgia.

A few showers were reported along the northern half of the Pacific coast.

Temperatures were near the freezing mark early today through portions of the northern and central Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley. Freeze warnings were in effect for western Nebraska, northeastern Colorado, eastern South Dakota and upper Michigan.

Frost warnings have been issued for northern Kansas, northeastern Nebraska and northwestern Iowa.

Skies were clearing through the western Great Lakes, the upper Mississippi Valley, the central Plains and the central Rockies. Mostly cloudy

The forecast today calls for showers and thundershowers extending from southern New England south along the Atlantic Coast, over the Appalachians and along the Gulf Coast into southern Texas.

Showers also were forecast for northern and central California. Cloudy skies were expected across most of the southern Plains and lower Mississippi Valley into Kentucky and Tennessee. Other areas will be mostly sunny, and cool weather will reach from the northern Appalachians across the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and Mississippi Valley into the southern portions of the Plains and Rockies.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 27 at Hibbing, Minn., to 84 at Galveston, Tex.

Family reunited after 2-year fight

BOSTON (AP) — Two-year-old Elaine Griffin survived a typhoon and a mountain of government paperwork before she could reunite her parents — 20 months after they had to leave her behind in The Philippines.

"We never would have left her if we'd known it would take this long to get her back," said her father, James Griffin, clutching the wide-eyed child as she was handed into his arms Monday night at Logan International Airport. "My God, she's finally home."

The outlook for reuniting the family was bleak at times. Just one year ago, the Peabody, Mass., couple almost gave up hope of ever seeing their child again.

Griffin was stationed in The Philippines with the U.S. Marines when he married his Filipino wife, Erlinda Evangelica. Their daughter was born in July 1974, in the U.S. Naval Hospital at Subic Bay.

Griffin wanted to leave the service and settle in Massachusetts with his new family, but because of a mix-up in paperwork the couple couldn't get a visa or passport for their new daughter.

Thinking the separation was only temporary, they left Elaine in the care of her aunt and grandfather.

"My wife was heartbroken to go. I had to force her to come with me and leave the baby behind," said the 23-year-old father.

Once here, he wrote letters to the Immigration and Naturalization Service, the State Department and the Justice Department in unsuccessful attempts to obtain the necessary papers to bring his daughter to the United States.

Last September, disgusted and disheartened, the Griffins turned to Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., and the Red Cross.

"I'd never seen a couple so discouraged. They were sick of all the red tape. But I was determined to help them," said Pat Carney, a congressional staff assistant who worked on the case.

Miss Carney sent telegrams to every federal agency she could think of. With the Red Cross helping, the paperwork was straightened out in six months.

Small towns hire traveling manager

EDDYVILLE, Iowa (AP) — Government is getting more complicated these days for small towns like Eddyville. So town officials joined six other communities and hired a traveling city manager.

"These seven cities got together and realized they were all about the same size and may have similar problems," said Gene Vatter, who serves as city manager for the towns ranging in population from 192 to 970.

"After about a year, they realized that just getting together wasn't solving all the problems," he said. So they sought help from their regional planning council and hired Vatter for $15,500 a year.

In addition to working on problems where part-time city officials have no expertise, Vatter coordinates programs between the towns, such as joint purchases and equipment sharing.

"They can also share personnel," Vatter said. "If skilled personnel are available for water treatment and liquid waste, there is no reason these personnel can't be shared by more than one city."

"It gives these small cities the power of a much larger city when they group together like this."

Eddyville Mayor Robert Richards says Vatter is well worth the money to his community, population 970.

Niehous reported still alive

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Eight months after he was kidnapped by a band of gunmen, American business executive William F. Niehous is reported still alive and somewhere in Venezuela.

Lamb said Merrell has contracted to produce 40 per cent of the vaccine. He said he did not know the schedule for shipping to individual states. That is to be handled by the National Center for Disease Control at Atlanta, Ga.

Lamb said that more than half the first 12.5 million doses will be the monovalent vaccine, which will be given to persons between the ages of 18 and 60. The remainder will be bivalent vaccine, for persons older than 60 and those with chronic lung, heart, kidney and metabolic diseases.

Children will not be inoculated under the current program, Lamb said. Merrell anticipates delivering more than 60 million doses by early next year in shipment of about six million doses every week to 10 days, Lamb said.

Lamb said 470,000 doses would be delivered at Columbus, Ohio Friday for distribution around the state. Cincinnati's inoculation program begins Oct. 7.

Stocks stay irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed today, weighing the first decline in 18 months of the government's index of leading economic indicators.

The index, which slipped 1.5 per cent in August, is designed to foretell future trends in the economy. The latest figure was reported at the opening of the market.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down .16 to 1,012.97 after opening trades. But advancing NYSE issues held a 3-2 lead on those declining.

Westinghouse Electric, the Big Board's most active issue Monday, was the volume leader again today, rising 1/2 to 19 1/4.

On Monday, the Dow Jones industrial average closed 3.82 higher at 1,013.13. Advancing NYSE issues held an 8-5 margin on those declining.

Volume on the Big Board was a modest 17.43 million shares.

The exchanges composite index of all listed common stocks rose .24 to 57.26.

Rhodes sets peace meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Accepting a somewhat tentative truce, Gov. James A. Rhodes has agreed to meet with Democratic legislative leaders to discuss his proposals for attracting job-producing industries to inner city areas.

Rhodes proposed a Sunday meeting in his office after two top Democrats called for a halt Monday to recent political bickering and said they were ready to talk about the governor's tax incentive bills.

But Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, and House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, showed little enthusiasm for measures offering tax breaks to industry.

"We offer to meet with you because your Sept. 20 letter to us indicates that there exists between us a basic difference in perception over what has been done and what needs to be done to aid Ohio's economic climate," they said in a letter to Rhodes.

"Ohio's unemployed deserve a truce," Riffe and Ocasek said. "They deserve relief from the daily news stories that their government leaders are constantly bickering over the conditions causing unemployment."

In his response, Rhodes agreed "that our unemployed citizens deserve relief from political statements that lead to no action."

He proposed a Sunday afternoon public meeting in his office with Ocasek, Riffe, Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, and House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — "I don't feel a day older than I was yesterday," former Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. said as he celebrated his 80th birthday.

The North Carolina Democrat, who gained public notice as chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, observed his birthday Monday doing what he has done since retiring nearly two years ago — jetting around the country making speeches.

"I don't see any difference in being 80 and 79," Ervin said while waiting for a plane to Emporia, Kan., where he was to make a speech.

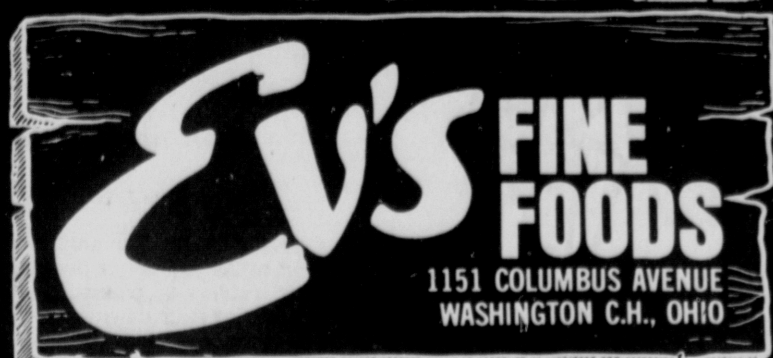

"There is a lot of difference between being 80 and 40," Ervin said with a deadpan expression.

Organizer for UMW has tough job

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Within the past couple of years, Jay Kolenc has been hauled off to a Wyoming prison, jailed in Kentucky and had his car shot full of holes in Ohio. But he says it's all in a day's work.

Kolenc's job is organizing for the United Mine Workers of America, a union whose history is rooted in struggle and violence.

Despite his recent experiences, however, he says things are now much different than back in the days when organizers were routinely beaten and murdered. In those days, he said, "the old timers used to organize with a pick handle and a sack of dynamite. But I never go into an area intending to violate the law and the job really isn't too dangerous except in a few areas where things still can get kinda rough."

He went on to say, though, that his job does make it almost impossible not to occasionally brush up against the law. He recalled an incident not long ago in Ohio where the attorney who led a group of nonunion workers through a picket line also happened to be the local judge, and a partner of the prosecuting attorney.

"I'll never forget what he said to me as he walked through that picket line," said Kolenc, a large, rugged man who lives at Rayland, Ohio, and who has been a miner and organizer for 28 of his 46 years. "He said, 'I'll see you tomorrow across the mahogany.' And, by golly, there he was in court the next day."

State controlling board nixes DNR items

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State controllers have refused to pick up a $1.4 million tab for back salary payments to 331 laid off natural resources workers who were recently reinstated.

The State Controlling Board also rejected or deferred Monday six requests from the same department for permission to purchase recreational land.

Most of the votes adhered closely to the 4-3 Democratic majority on the board, an indication of the long simmering feud between the majority party and Natural Resources Director Robert W. Teater.

"The people of the State of Ohio have certainly been denied by today's action," said Deputy DNR Director Richard E. Midden, "very, very definitely."

The land purchase requests included three tracts for Malabar State Farm in Richland County that Midden said involved funds which were "fully reimbursable" from the federal government.

Democratic members of the board asked for more information about many of the purchases, questioning the price, unfavorable comparisons between land and tax appraisals and willingness of owners to sell.

On the question of back pay for laid off workers, Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, demanded a complete accounting of DNR finances and employment practices. Rep. Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, asked for an individual accounting of back wages owed to employees.

The State Personnel Board of Review ordered the natural resources department last month to rehire 331 workers, saying the budgetary staff cutbacks were unwarranted. The review board also ordered payment to the employees for the lost time when they were not working.

Midden said the department had only $19,000 in surplus 1976 funds to use.

"We're just trying to comply with the order," he told newsmen, adding "If you don't have the money, you don't pay it."

Democrats, particularly Meshel, have consistently criticized Teater's hiring practices at the department.

Teater and Welfare Director Kwegyir Aggrey are the only two members of Gov. James A. Rhodes' cabinet who have not yet been confirmed by the Senate.

In other action, the board:

—Deferred action on a DNR request to purchase 29 acres of land for $50,000 for Darby Creek Reservation.

—Put off a vote on the purchase of 24 acres by DNR for $15,000 for Blackhand

Gorge in Licking County.

—Rejected a DNR request to purchase 382 acres for $160,000 in Columbiana County for Beaver Creek State Park.

Miss Hardman becomes bride of Marvin Eugene Matthews

The White Oak Grove United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Penny Sue Hardman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil W. Hardman and Mr. Marvin Eugene Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Matthews on Saturday, September 4, at 3:30 p.m.

Richard A. Matthews, brother of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony for the couple. The candelabras entwined with California ivy and white satin bows and fireside baskets of orange and white gladiolas were placed on each side of the altar. Vases of yellow daisies, pom poms, peach miniature carnations and baby's breath were placed in the church windows and on the organ.

The program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Kenneth Spahr, organist and Mrs. Dale Matthews, vocalist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She presented her mother with a Sonia rose from her bridal bouquet and was given in marriage by both parents. Miss Hardman was wearing a gown of nylon dotted swiss over nylon net and taffeta. The gown featured an empire waistline with the bodice and stand-up collar edged with Cluny lace. The bishop sleeves were accented with two bands of lace the length of the sleeves and gathered at the wrists with matching lace cuffs. The deep flounced hem was also edged with a band of Cluny lace. The chapel length mantilla of silk illusion was held by a coronet. The long train also held by the coronet was edged with matching lace.

Following the exchange of vows, the bride and groom lighted a candle symbolizing unity. After the candle lighting ceremony, the vocalist sang the Lord's Prayer. The bride then presented a red rose from her bridal bouquet to the groom's mother.

Miss Martha Roberts, maid of honor, wore a floor-length gown of apricot dotted swiss over taffeta. The gown featured short capelet sleeves with a large ruffled collar, V-neckline in front and an empire waist with satin ribbon streamer trim. The A-line skirt was flounced by a deep hem. She wore a wide brimmed hat trimmed in satin ribbon to match her gown. She carried two white roses and baby's breath with apricot ribbon streamers to match her gown. Mrs. Daniel Smith, matron of honor, wore a gown identical to the maid of honor except in blue. Mrs. Clark Grabbill and Miss Denise Matthews sister of the groom were bridesmaids. They wore the identical gowns with Mrs. Grabbill in yellow and Miss Matthews in green. Each wore a wide brimmed hat trimmed in satin to match their gowns. Each carried two white roses and baby's breath with ribbon streamers to match the color of their gown. All wore an encircled pearl necklace, gifts from the bride.

Timothy Flint served as best man for Mr. Matthews. The groomsmen were Robert Matthews, Dale Matthews and Donald Matthews, all brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Hardman chose a formal length sleeveless gown of powder blue knit with lace bodice featuring an empire waist and a matching lace jacket with blue knit trim. She wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids with light blue trim. Mrs. Matthews wore a formal length gown of seagreen knit with lace bodice and a matching lace jacket with green knit trim. She wore a corsage of green cymbidium orchids with yellow trim.

Miss Jane Counts presided at the guest book and the wedding programs were dispensed by Miss Linda Lower, cousin of the bride. Each wore white Fuji pom pom corsages.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the country home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was decorated with orange roses and the base was encircled with leatherleaf and baby's breath. Crystal candelabras and punchbowls complemented the table. The wedding cake and the mints were made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Frederick McNeal. Junior hostesses for the reception were Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Terry Miracle, Mrs. Joe Lane and Mrs. Jay Burr. Senior hostesses were Mrs. Charles Junk, Mrs. Larry Hill, Mrs. Nathan Bolton, Mrs. William Fuller, Mrs. William Lower and Mrs. Frederick McNeal. Mrs. Timothy Flint and Miss Troilee McNeal attended the gift table.

The bride is a graduate of Miami Trace High School and attended Ohio University branch at Chillicothe. She is employed at Landmark, Inc. of Washington C.H. The groom is also a graduate of Miami Trace High School and is employed at Fletcher-Olds-Cadillac & Buick, Inc. of Washington C.H.

After a honeymoon at White's Landing on Lake Erie, the couple will reside at 5361 US Rt. 35 SE.

On Friday evening following the wedding rehearsal, the wedding party was entertained with a buffet dinner at the church co-hosted by the parents and catered by Miss Maxine Gilmer.

SPRIT OF '76 — Mr. Donald Moore, faculty member of Washington Senior High School, discusses the Murals and Life of Archibald Willard when he spoke to the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution Monday evening.

Life of Archibald Willard topic for MW Committee meet

Mr. Donald Moore, teacher at Washington High School was guest speaker when members of the Martha Washington Committee on Indian Affairs, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in the home of Mrs. Willard Bitzer Monday evening.

Mr. Moore's subject was "Archibald Willard's Life and Murals — Landmarks on Canvas". He gave a resume of Mr. Willard's life as a small town carriage, wagon and furniture decorator: as a Civil War soldier and as a Victorian cartoonist, painter and muralist. Mr. Moore presented the Revolutionary development of the "Spirit of '76" painting and exhibited some of its various forms. He also pointed out that the murals in the Courthouse and Miss Marian Moore's home in Washington C. H. are the most extensive murals by Willard known to exist. Willard's work was often filled with an inspiration which overcame any lack of technical skill, he said.

He stated that Willard's most famous work has become a rallying point for American patriotism and a symbol of the faith which created a nation.

Mrs. Robert Harris, chairman, opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Bitzer read an original — "The Constitution of the United States" in Six Quakers from Virginia established homes on the banks of the Mahoning River just north of the present site of Alliance in 1806. Within the next 30 years three more towns were established nearby, Freedom, Williamsport and Mount Union. In 1854 the four communities were united under the name of Alliance.

May I possess always the integrity, the courage and the strength to keep myself unshackled to remain a Citadel of freedom and a beacon of hope to the world.

Elevate the legs

After a day on your feet, stretch out on your back with feet raised, knees up, close as possible to a wall. Walk your feet up the wall — as you go higher, support your back with your hands. When you reach the highest point, hold your feet there for three to five minutes. This is a great relaxer for both feet and legs. It encourages the recirculation of blood in the legs, which nourishes all muscles and other cells.

If you have a tendency toward visible leg veins, it's helpful to raise the lower end of your mattress a few inches so that your feet are elevated during sleep. This stimulates recirculation of blood and a healthier condition of blood vessels.

NAACP hopeful in fund raising

By The Associated Press
After a weekend of desperate fund raising, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is counting the money, hoping it adds up to $1.6 million.
The organization is required to post that much by Oct. 2 to appeal a $1.2-million damage award granted to 12 white merchants in Mississippi.
NAACP officials say the judgement, if upheld, could irreparably set back the association's efforts toward racial equality.
Before the coast-to-coast weekend drive, the NAACP had collected $750,000.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Although "Police Woman" and "One Day at a Time" start new seasons tonight, no new series are on tonight. So on Wednesday, and "Alice," CBS' new sitcom about hard-times love and life. It stars Linda Lavin as a 35-year-old housewife who, after the death of her husband, flees the East Coast and takes her 12-year-old son (Phillip McKeon) westward to start a new life and career. She wants to be a professional singer. But she gets stranded in Phoenix and goes to work in a slightly greasy spoon cafe run by a boisterous, beer-bellied gent named Mel (Vic Tayback).
Two other table-tenders toil there — Flo (Polly Holliday), a good-natured, beehive-haired country gal in her early forties, and Vera (Beth Howland), a quiet, thirtyish lady who is a bit mousy. Let us say right off the bat that "Alice" has the makings of a fine series. The regulars are first-rate, and the settings and costumes have a realistic, time-worn look to them.

Alas, Wednesday's show is more of a let's-be-relevant drama than a let's-just-laugh comedy with a touch of relevance thrown in.

It concerns the visit of Mel's old college pal (Denny Miller), a broad-shoulder, intelligent, good-looking ex-football star who now acts in spaghetti Westerns.

The waitresses naturally go nuts over him. Particularly Alice. Flo suggests she try "the ladylike approach on him — drop your housekeys in his pocket."

A date with Alice is quickly arranged. When the guy comes calling, Alice's precocious son takes an immediate liking to him. He starts touting his mother's fine qualities, physical and otherwise, prompting the guy to say: "Tommy, you sound like a used-mother dealer."

The date is fine, but when they come home for a chat and possible fooling around, well, the guy tells her he's gay. "You don't mean — just jolly?" she says in quiet shock.

Nope. When he says let's be friends, kisses her on the forehead and exits, she sadly sighs: "I should have known. Mel said he was a man's man."

While Mel didn't know, either, the rest of the show tries to settle all that by enlarging on a homosexuals-are-human theme.

Although it's all tastefully handled and no scene is broadly played, the various crises and jokes are too predictable and the manner of delivery too gentle to cause more than a smile.

COUNTY VOLLEYBALL ACTION — A Washington C.H. varsity player attempts to "set-up" a teammate in the second and final game of the Blue Lions match with Miami Trace Monday. The Lions won both the varsity and reserve matches in two straight games to up their season mark to 3-1.

Hurricane QB takes SCOL scoring lead

Wilmington High School's Gary Williams ran for two touchdowns and kicked five extra points to take over the South Central Ohio League scoring lead with 40 points.

The junior quarterback also threw two touchdown passes in the 35-14 win over Dayton Carroll last Friday night. His 40-point total which includes five touchdowns and 10 conversion kicks on the year took the lead away from Washington C. H.'s Jeff Elliott, who scored four touchdowns in the Blue Lions' season opening win, but has been unable to find the goal line in the last two games.

Miami Trace's Art Schlichter is in second place with 28 points. However, his offensive worth is better determined when his three touchdown passes which do not figure into the individual scoring totals of quarterbacks, are considered.

Greenfield's Tony Anderson moved into contention for the league scoring title with a three-touchdown performance Friday against Madison Plains. The speedy McClain senior had scored only one touchdown in the Tigers' first two games.

The Miami Trace Panthers still lead the league teams in scoring with a 48.3-points per game average. When offensive tackle Shawn Riley fell on a fumble in the endzone against Jackson Friday, he became the 14th Panther to score this year. Five Miami Trace players are on this week's scoring list

Ali-Norton set tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — "This is the end of my career," says Muhammad Ali, who puts the heavyweight championship on the line against Ken Norton tonight.

"I don't want to lose it." Ali didn't mean that this will be his last fight but that he was getting down that road toward retirement. The champion is 34.

And he is the 8-5 favorite to keep that road open by beating Norton in their third meeting — each won a split 12-round decision in 1973 with Norton breaking Ali's jaw in the first fight.

"You must remember that those first two fights weren't for the title," said Ali, who retained the championship by knocking out George Foreman Oct. 30, 1974, seven months after Norton was stopped in two rounds by Foreman in a bid for the title.

The weigh-in was scheduled for noon today at a hotel overlooking Central Park. Ali was expected to scale about 221 pounds and Norton 215. Each is 6-foot-3 and has an 80-inch reach.

The fight was scheduled to start in Yankee Stadium at 10:30 p.m., EDT.

Moeller, Irononton, Newark head first prep grid poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some time-tested powers are in a challenging position again in The Associated Press' first Ohio high school football ratings of the 1976 season.

Cincinnati Moeller, the Class AAA pacesetter, was the 1974 poll champion and finished second behind Lakewood St. Edward a year ago.

Irononton, No. 5 in Class AA last fall, surged into the No. 1 spot Monday in the balloting by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Newark Catholic, waging a tight duel with defending playoff king Carey, is a multi-former champion of the Class A set. The Green Wave is off to another impressive start for the No. 1 spot.

Moeller has been so overperforming this fall that one voter cracked Monday, "Put Moeller in all 10 places in Class AAA."

The Cincinnati school piled up 244 points, a runaway No. 1 selection over second-place Findlay with 145 points. Gahanna Lincoln, another 3-0-0 power, used a 10-0 decision at Massillon to take the third spot with 132 points.

In Class AAA, Akron Garfield owned the fourth position while Zanesville was fifth, Niles sixth, Youngstown Mooney seventh, Warren Harding eighth, Cincinnati Princeton ninth and St. Edward 10th. All carry 3-0-0 records.

A three-sided duel is shaping up in Class AA with only 12 points separating the first three rated teams. Irononton has 93, No. 2 Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary 84 and third-place Cincinnati Wyoming, the defending champion, 81.

Huron was a distant fourth in Class AA, followed by Huron, St. Marys, Columbus Watterson, Brookville, Elyria Catholic, Shelby and New Lexington.

All the Class AA Top Ten are 3-0-0 except St. Vincent-St. Mary and Watterson, both 2-1-0.

Newark Catholic had the narrowest lead, 118-115, over Carey in Class A. Carey whipped the Green Wave 15-7 playoffs, using a sudden death overtime to do it.

Sandusky St. Mary's owned the third spot in Class A with Cedarville fourth, Sullivan Black River fifth, West Alexandria Twin Valley South sixth and Newcomerstown seventh.

Ridgeway Ridgemont and Bluffton were tied for eighth and Cleveland

Cuyahoga Heights held down the No. 10 position.

Griffin, San Diego get past Reds, 5-3

SAN DIEGO (AP) — For most baseball players not on teams going onto the playoffs, the end of the season will be welcomed.

But that isn't the case with San Diego Padre right-hander Tom Griffin.

"I'm going to hate to see the season end," said Griffin Monday night, "because my arm is just getting into good shape."

Griffin proved his point earlier by going the distance for a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, only the 19th time this season a starter has made it the finish against the powerful Reds.

The hard-throwing Griffin struck out four and walked six while scattering seven hits enroute to his third complete game. He improved his record to 8-6.

"They got Griffin on waivers—I can't believe it," said Reds manager Sparky Anderson by way of praise afterward.

It's true. The Padres picked Griffin up on waivers from the Houston Astros in July and the 28-year-old hurler has shown steady progress since.

"I've been getting the chance to pitch regularly with the Padres and I couldn't be happier being with this club," he said. "When this season ends, I'm going to have a tough time waiting until spring training."

Despite spells of wildness along the way, Griffin finally triumphed when the Padres rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to erase a 3-2 deficit.

The rally came off reliever Santo Alcala, who took over for starter Don Gullett and promptly got in trouble when Johnny Grubb led off with a single and Bobby Valentine drew a walk.

Padre first baseman Mike Ivie then tied the game at 3-3 with a single to left and Doug Rader decided it with a two-run bloop double that actually dropped on the right field chalk line.

"I wanted to pitch a no-hitter for him," said Don Sutton. "I've played for the guy 11 years and he has been honest with me every minute of it."

Sutton, like most of his teammates on the Los Angeles Dodgers, was deeply moved by the announcement Monday that Walter Alston was retiring after 23 years as manager of the team. For him, beating the Houston Astros Monday night was especially important.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday night, the New York Mets pounded the Montreal Expos 10-3, the Philadelphia Phillies routed the St. Louis Cardinals 9-1 and the San Diego Padres beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-3.

Sutton, 21-9, struck out three and walked two in posting his fourth shutout of the season and the 44th of his career, most among active National Leaguers. He allowed just one runner past second base. It was his ninth consecutive victory and 14th in his last 15 decisions, and it was an emotional one.

Bill Russell singled home Steve Garvey in the seventh inning to break a scoreless duel between Sutton and Houston's Dan Larson, 5-8. The Dodgers added a second run in the eighth inning when Dave Lopes walked, stole second — his second stolen base of the game and 61st of the season — and

Oakland A's stop Royals in 8-3 clash to close gap

OAKLAND (AP) — The opening of a do-or-die series with the Kansas City Royals brought out the best in the Oakland A's and the beast in some of their fans.

"It was a tough game, a big one to win. But it means nothing unless we win the rest of them," Phil Garner said early today after an 8-3 victory which left the A's 3½ games behind first-place Kansas City with six games to go in the American League West race.

The start of the Monday night baseball game, which drew a crowd of 37,914, was delayed more than an hour because of rain. Two fights, one on the field between the players and the second between fans and Kansas City players, stopped play in the decisive sixth inning.

The Detroit at Cleveland game was postponed because of rain. No other games were scheduled Monday.

"Things are tense and any little thing can set off something like that," said the Royals' George Brett, referring to the brawl which broke out on the field after Dennis Leonard hit the A's Don Baylor with a pitch.

"I thought everyone was coming out to shake my hand because I hit a homer," Sal Bando joked later. His leadoff home run gave the A's and pitcher Vida Blue, 18-12, a 5-3 lead and Baylor was hit by the next pitch from Leonard.

Redskins edge Eagles, 20-17

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Washington Redskins presented Coach George Allen with his 100th National Football League victory and the veteran coach's quick thinking on the sidelines had more than a little to do with the triumph.

Mark Moseley booted a 29-yard field goal 12 minutes and 49 seconds into a sudden death period of Monday night's nationally televised game to give the unbeaten Redskins a 20-17 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles. But there would have been no sudden death, no victory without Allen.

The 54-year-old Allen, in his 11th season as a NFL coach, made himself a factor in the game with 12 seconds left in the first half. The Eagles led 10-3, and had a third-down-and-six at their 35-yard line.

Washington's defense started to leave the field figuring the clock would run out, but Allen, ever alert, waved his defenders back and shouted for a time out.

"I called time out and told them to blitz, try to hit them on the exchange of the ball," Allen explained. "I felt that with 12 seconds left if we stopped them there, we'd go for the blocked punt."

UCLA grid injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It'll be a UCLA football team that's ranked No. 4 in the nation against an Ohio State rated No. 8 this week when the Rose Bowl foes of 272 days ago meet again Saturday.

However, the Bruins learned Monday that their two top running backs, Wendell Tyler, the school's all-time leading rusher, and Theotis Brown may not play due to injuries.

came home on Bill Buckner's single.

Mets 10, Expos 3

John Milner drove in six runs for the Mets with a pair of homers, a two-run shot in the third inning and his third grand slam of the season in the sixth.

Phil 9, Cards 1

Jerry Martin hit his first home run of the season and Greg Luzinski, Larry Bowa and Ollie Brown drove in two runs apiece as the Phils posted their ninth win in the last 11 games.

Alston steps down as Dodgers pilot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After 23 consecutive one-year contracts to manage the Dodgers, Walter Alston has stepped down, saying, "There comes a time when you need to take a little rest."

The 64-year-old Alston, known as the

WALT ALSTON

"Quiet Man" from Darrrtown, Ohio, made his decision Monday. After a round of golf, he told Los Angeles Dodgers management and it was announced at a late afternoon news conference during which Alston said he would remain with the National League club in a front office capacity.

"Baseball has been good to me," he said. "But there comes a time when you get enough of everything. This has been quite a day. It's the first time I ever got three birdies playing golf in one day and I'm retiring."

Thus ends one of baseball's greatest chapters, one which started in 1954 in Brooklyn at the end of Jackie Robinson's career, continued to the team's first world title in 1955, through the opening of the West to baseball in the late 1950s and then through the years of glory with Sandy Koufax and a succession of teams that rarely scored yet won championships.

No successor was named immediately, but Walter O'Malley, chairman of the Board of the Dodgers, said his son Peter, General Manager Al Campanis and Alston would sit down soon and decide on who will become the next Dodgers' field boss.

"What do they say? The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat? I've had my share of those," said Alston. "Announcing it now gives Peter a chance to find someone else."

Peter O'Malley serves as club president.

Almost to a man, the Dodgers' players said it was a sad day.

"I'm disappointed," said Don Sutton. "I've played for the man for 11 years and he's been honest every minute of it. There are so many opportunities to be up and down in this game, but he's stayed on an even keel, and that imparts consistency to the ball club."

"He set the standards for all other managers to match," said first baseman Steve Garvey, the NL's most valuable player in 1974, Alston's last pennant year.

Alston won four World Series titles and seven pennants for the Dodgers and only two men in the history of the game have managed one club longer — Connie Mack, 50 years with the Philadelphia Athletics and John McGraw, 31 with the New York Giants.

Michigan retains AP poll lead

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tony Dorsett remembers leaner years when the University of Pittsburgh football team would get especially aroused to meet a highly ranked foe.

"Now the shoe is on the other foot," Dorsett said Monday after Pitt jumped from third to second behind Michigan in The Associated Press college football poll.

"A few years ago, Pitt had no ranking and no respect," added Dorsett, who has 4,540 career yards rushing going into Saturday's game at Duke.

"I remember how it was always easy to get mentally fired up when we played teams like Notre Dame, Southern Cal and Oklahoma.

"Now other teams feel the same way about us. Beating Pitt can make their season, and they all come after us. Our being No. 2 will just make them try harder."

Dorsett was a senior at nearby Hopewell High School in 1972 when Pitt labored through a 1-10 season.

The Panthers of Coach Johnny Majors are 3-0 this year after victories over Notre Dame, Georgia Tech and Temple.

Unranked Temple led 7-6 at halftime Saturday before Dorsett keyed a second-half surge that rallied Pitt to 21-7 triumph. And the feeling at Pitt was that the Panthers might slip a bit in the rankings.

However, previously second-ranked

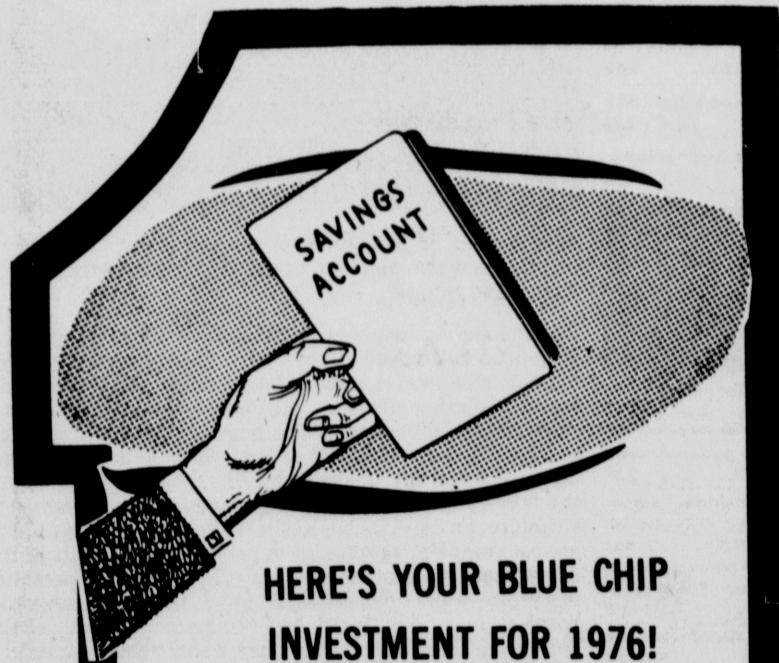

Ohio State was beaten by Missouri, and Pitt was voted into the second spot — the highest the Panthers have been since 1963.

Pitt hasn't won a national title since it went 9-0-1 under Coach Jock Sutherland in 1937.

"I don't believe our players are getting too excited right now," said Majors.

Ohio State suffered a 22-21 upset defeat to Missouri on Saturday and a demotion from second place to eighth in the weekly balloting. Unbeaten Oklahoma, the defending two-time national champions, received three first-place votes.

Eczema Is a Skin Infection

I suffered with eczema as a child and now at the age of 73 it's driving me out of my mind. The itching on my head is unbearable. — Mrs. E.M.G., Fla. Dear Mrs. G.:

Eczema is a form of dermatitis (skin infection) that is very hard to cure. The crusting, the oozing, the itching, the scaling of the skin, the redness, and even occasional tiny blisters make this a distressing condition.

It takes a combination of drugs and cooperation between the patient and the physician to find the cause. Allergies of all kinds can be responsible. Sensitivity to light, reactions to drugs, contact with plants, flowers or trees, exposure to chemicals, hair dyes, bleaches, anti-perspirants, nail polishes, fabrics like wool, silk or the modern synthetics.

With so many possibilities it is obvious that no quick answer can be found.

However, if you continue to pursue this with your doctors, the chances are great that the cause of the eczema will be uncovered.

Can biopsies ever be performed in the doctor's office rather than in a hospital? I was surprised when my mother had this done in an office. I worried even when the report came back negative. — Miss V.E., N.J.

Dear Miss E.:

A biopsy is the removal of a piece of tissue for microscopic study. Where it is removed does not affect the reliability of the report.

Wherever the biopsy is performed, in a hospital or an office, the tissue is immediately placed in a special solution, and then sent to a pathologist for study. A pathologist is a specialist in the study of tissues and can do his microscopic work either in a hospital or in his private office.

Some situations demand a hospital for biopsy. Others can readily be done in a doctor's office, both with the same degree of reliability.

Opening lead — six of hearts.

There is a play known as a stepping-stone squeeze, and there is also a play called a suicide squeeze. Both plays are extremely rare — they occur perhaps one deal out of a thousand — but to have them occur in the same deal happens only once in a lifetime.

Here is such a deal where the play followed a course that led to a highly dramatic ending. West led a heart, won with the ace, and declarer played the A-K and another spade, finessing the ten.

A low diamond from dummy was won with the nine, and a spade to the queen produced this extraordinary position:

Declarer led a low diamond from dummy and East realized that if he followed low, South would finesse the ten and play the queen to assure ten tricks. East therefore went up with the ace and returned a heart to dummy's king to stop South from taking three diamond tricks.

But declarer found the proper response to this maneuver. He led a low club from dummy to the jack. West could do no better than cash his A-Q and return a club to dummy's ten, but on this trick East found himself the victim of a simultaneous stepping-stone and suicide squeeze forced upon him by his partner. If he threw a diamond, dummy's diamonds would be good; if he discarded his last heart, South would win the last two tricks with the diamond queen and a heart.

Bell aids FBI wiretaps of Americans

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Bell Telephone Co. employees did the wiring for FBI wiretaps and cooperated with the FBI for more than 30 years in setting up wiretaps without court orders, the Charlotte Observer reported today.

The Observer said these wiretaps were put on the private telephone lines of such people as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Muhammad Ali and Dr. Morton Halperin.

The newspaper said it based its information on unnamed sources and statements by retired Bell official Horace Hampton. Hampton testified earlier this year in a lawsuit against Bell filed by Halperin, a former aide to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger at the National Security Council.

Hampton, who worked for Bell in Washington until 1971, testified that for more than 23 years he personally supervised at the FBI's request the hooking up of direct lines from an FBI listening post to private telephones in the Washington area, the paper said.

It said the taps were done under a law which allows the president or his designate to authorize wiretaps without a court order.

The Bell System, meanwhile, insists the company itself never wiretapped anyone.

"All we're providing is the electrical path between two points which have to be connected in order to overhear the conversation by a third person," H.W. William Caming, a Bell lawyer, told the Observer.

Bell officials testified in June before the House Commerce subcommittee that Bell employees who connected the FBI national security wiretaps did not have national security clearance. The officials said the employees were unaware they were installing wiretap connections, the Observer said.

The paper said in its Sunday editions that Bell employees across the nation have legally listened in on thousands of private telephone calls as part of their jobs.

"All our plant repairmen at anytime can overhear any call in the United States in their area, fully, and every operator (can) to some extent," Caming told the paper.

Lots of times folks are confused by the wide variety of slide films on the shelves in the shop and they come up with the obvious question, "Which is best?"

Man, you just can't give a pat answer to a question like that, in that each has its own area in which it is definitely the film of choice. Like, for example, the autumn colors in this part of the country call for AGFACHROME. The dyes used in this great German film accentuate those beautiful warm colors Mother Nature slipped in the leaves. Yep, when it comes to fall colors, AGFACHROME is 'way out in front of all the rest. This is Agfachrome season.

We're amused at all the ads we see in newspapers and flyers telling of specials on the Kodak Tele-Instamatic 608 camera. The thing is, our regular price on this neat little camera has always been, and is now, a low $25.95. Maybe you should have one at that price. And have you seen the second generation of the Tele-Instamatic? It's the 708 and it has dual-magnification viewfinder that changes automatically, automatic exposure control, multi-element lens, folding lens cover and focusing lens that focuses from three feet to infinity.

Kodak's instant cameras are making great color pictures, but they are hard to come by. I'm afraid they'll be hard to find this Christmas season. We only have two left and I'm not sure when we'll get more.

By The Associated Press
The rain moved out of Ohio this morning, lingering only in the extreme south.

Cloudiness was to persist over north central and north eastern counties because of a northerly flow of cool air over the still warm Lake Erie.

The weather map features a cold front from the middle Atlantic states to south Texas and a ridge of high pressure from western Quebec through the Great Lakes to Colorado. Both are moving southeast.

High pressure was to control the weather today, bringing mostly sunny skies to the central and southern counties and highs in the upper 50s and 60s.

Tonight will be generally clear and cooler with lows in the upper 30s to the upper 40s. Wednesday will be mostly sunny with highs in the mid to upper 60s.

Extended outlook for Ohio, Thursday through Saturday: fair Thursday and Friday. A chance of showers Saturday. Highs in the upper 60s and 70s. Lows in the upper 40s and lower 50s.

Vehicle damages road sign, fence

Four traffic mishaps probed

A jeep-type vehicle driven by a Columbus woman struck and damaged a road sign and farm fence late Sunday, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported.

Washington C.H. police officers investigated three Monday mishaps.

Traveling north on the McCafferty Road, Joy D. Morrow, 22, of Columbus, failed to stop for a stop sign on the Post Road, sheriff's deputies said.

Her "scout" vehicle traveled through the intersection, and struck fence belonging to Russell Lewis, 11139 Post Road. A road sign was also struck by the vehicle. Moderate damage to the vehicle resulted. The accident occurred at 10:50 p.m. Sunday.

POLICE

MONDAY, 1:30 p.m. — A parked car belonging to Joyce E. Roberts, 28, of Greenfield, parked on the McDonald's restaurant parking lot on S. Elm Street, was reportedly struck and slightly damaged by a hit-skip vehicle.

12:40 p.m. — Turning from Washington Avenue onto S. Elm Street, a car driven by Debora L. Hughes, 17, of 10082 Bloomingburg-New Holland Road, reportedly collided with a car westbound on Washington Avenue.

The second car was driven by Allen L. Burlile, 62, of 355 Bogus Road, both cars were moderately damaged, and Miss Hughes was charged with failure to yield to an oncoming vehicle.

11:48 a.m. — A car driven by Rickey L. Roberts, 17, of 614 Sycamore St., which was westbound on E. Court Street, reportedly failed to slow in time and struck a car proceeding in the same direction ahead.

Wednesday in Clinton County

Area visit set by veep hopeful

WILMINGTON, Ohio — Sen. Robert Dole, the Republican vice presidential nominee, will complete a campaign swing through Ohio Wednesday with a stop at a Clinton County farm.

Sen. Dole is scheduled to visit the Thomas C. McMillan farm at 4242 Gurneyville Road, just off U.S. 68-N, about five miles north of Wilmington.

The Kansas senator is scheduled to speak at the Clinton County farm shortly after noon Wednesday. He is also tentatively scheduled to visit Southern State College on the site of the former Clinton County Air Force Base, near Wilmington.

Scheduled to be in the Dole caravan are U.S. Sen. Robert Taft and Congressman Clarence J. (Bud) Brown.

John Stackhouse, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Dole is campaigning in rural Ohio in hopes of convincing the state's traditionally Republican farmers that a new Ford Administration would be in their best interests.

"We're going to work for the farmer," Sen. Dole said in a speech at the Republican State Convention in Columbus last week.

U.S. imports dip sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imports of goods into the United States dropped more sharply in August than exports, but the trade deficit for the month was still the third largest on record, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said imports exceeded exports by $757.7 million in August. That was smaller than July's deficit, $827.1 million, but was the seventh in the eight months so far this year.

Through those eight months, the nation's trade deficit amounts to $2.6

billion. That compares with a $7.2 billion surplus at the same time last year as the nation was recording a record annual surplus of $11 billion.

Most analysts have considered a slight deficit to be in the best interests of the world economy this year. The deficit would theoretically balance off last year's sizable surplus while helping economic recovery of U.S. trading partners through export sales here.

And the recovery would in turn stimulate demand for U.S. products overseas.
